La Scuola Di Piazza del Popolo - Gabriele Simongini

- Published to accompany an exhibition at Monogramma Arte Contemporanea in Rome from May 28th to June 28th 2021 - Includes artworks by 12 notable Italian artists working in the electrical atmosphere of creativity and innovation that centered on the Piazza del Popolo in 1960s Rome The Scuola di Piazza del Popolo, a loosely affiliated group of Italian artists, were part of the pioneering artistic scene that centered on the area around Rome's iconic Piazza del Popolo in the mid-1960s. These artists, working in what is contentiously called an Italian Pop style, often used the visual vocabulary of Pop Art but forged a path that they considered both innovative and experimental. This catalog for a show in Rome brings together works from the 1960s created by 12 Piazza del Popolo artists: Franco Angeli, Mario Ceroli, Tano Festa, Giosetta Fioroni, Jannis Kounellis, Sergio Lombardo, Francesco Lo Savio, Renato Mambor, Pino Pascali, Mimmo Rotella, Mario Schifano and Cesare Tacchi. The catalog features personal recollections of the period by Professor Emmanuele Emanuele, texts by Giovanni Morabio and Giancarlo Carpi, an essay by the curator of the show, Gabriele Simongini, excerpts from writings by a number of the featured artists, biographies, and archival photographs. Text in English and Italian.

Per Barclay. Ediz. italiana, inglese e spagnola - Per Barclay 2003

La instalación presentada recurre al hierro y al cristal para crear volúmenes de alta tecnología; un líquido de color rojo fluye goteando desde lo alto con ritmos distintos para caer y explotar dentro de unas jaulas, desde las cuales, por medio de una bomba y a través de un circuito, se irá llenando lentamente la superficie casi plana de las mesas para luego volver a subir y empezar de nuevo. Las gotas son el sonido de la exposición, un tintineo que de suave y placentero llega a ser casi violento, hasta hacerse silencio en el momento mismo en que la superficie de las mesas se convierte en pintura, en un gran monocromo color púrpura. Barclay pretende mostrar el contraste entre belleza y comfort, encerrándonos en un gran corazón que late, donde la calma se entremezcla temporalmente con la angustia.

evocative of nature's primary elements: fire. This publication retraces the exhibition path, which focuses on some avant-garde artists who adopted fire as a means of artistic expression: Alberto Burri, Yves Klein, Arman, Pier Paolo Calzolari, Jannis Kounellis e Claudio Parmiggiani. These artists have explored both the destructive and generative effects of fire, using different materials, as well as ash and light. The catalogue includes several photographs showing the artists at work and their pieces: from Burri's combustions to Klein's, Arman's and Kounellis's use of gas flame, as well as Calzolari's and Parmiggiani's use of flames and smoke in different ways. Exhibition: Island of San Giorgio Maggiore, Venice, Italy (22.04. - 24.07.2022).
