The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban Literary Studies - Jeremy Tambling 2022-10-29

This encyclopaedia will be an indispensable resource and recourse for all who are thinking about cities and the urban, and the relation of cities to literature, and to ways of writing about cities. Covering a vast terrain, this work will include entries on theorists, individual writers, individual cities, countries, cities in relation to the arts, film and music, urban space, pre/early and modern cities, concepts and movements and definitions amongst others. Written by an international team of contributors, this will be the first resource of its kind to pull together such a comprehensive overview of the field.

The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard - Albert Wertheim 2000-09-22

"Albert Wertheim's study of Fugard's plays is both extremely insightful and beautifully written... This book is aimed not only at teachers, students, scholars, and performers of Fugard but also at the person who simply loves going to see a Fugard play at the theatre." -- Nancy Topping Bazin, Eminent Scholar and Professor Emerita, Old Dominion University Athol Fugard is considered one of the most brilliant, powerful, and theatrically astute of modern dramatists. The energy and poignancy of his work have their origins in the institutionalized racism of his native South Africa, and more recently in the issues facing a new South Africa after apartheid. Albert Wertheim analyzes the form and content of Fugard's dramas, showing that they are more than a dramatic chronicle of South African life and racial problems. Beginning with the specifics of his homeland, Fugard's plays reach out to engage more far-reaching issues of human relationships, race and racism, and the power of art to evoke change. The Dramatic Art of Athol Fugard demonstrates how Fugard's plays enable us to see that what is performed on stage can also be performed in society and in our lives; how, inverting Shakespeare, Athol Fugard makes his stage the world.

New York Magazine - 1969-10-06

New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country. With award-winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion, the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself, while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea.

Lionel Abrahams, a Reader - Lionel Abrahams 1988

Athol Fugard and Barney Simon - Mary Benson 1997

Mary Benson's new book is an intensely personal account of her friendship with two of South Africa's best known theatrical figures. Woven through the narrative are perceptive insights into their creativity and the way in which they shaped the plays and productions that were to establish their international reputations.

By turns highly entertaining and moving, Athol Fugard and Barney Simon is a valuable addition to the genre of theater literature in South Africa and beyond.

The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook - Ed Hooks 1994

Preparing for an audition and unsure of what you want to do?The Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebook is the book you've been waiting for. Unlike "scene books" that reprint 50 to 75 monologues excerpted from plays but don't include any background information, this annotated guide tells you what you really need to know about audition material from more than 300 contemporary plays. Here is how the book works. Suppose that you're looking for a dramatic male/female scene. When you scan "Part One: Play Synopses and Analyses," you come across an entry forThe Middle of the Nightby Paddy Chayefsky. This is what you see: The Middle of the Night by Paddy Chayefsky (Samuel French) Synopsis: A kindly 53-year-old widower falls in love with a 23-year-old woman who is unhappily married to a musician. No one in their circle of acquaintances approves of this union, but their love is true. Analysis: Excellent human drama, frequently touching. Actors who play the widower need to have a good feel for New York City/Brooklyn speech patterns. This sensitivity isn't as essential for the part of the woman. All levels. Scenes/Monologues: Male Monologues (1), Female/Female Scenes (1), Male/Female Scenes (2) In addition to basic information about the play (author and publisher), the entry provides you with the story line, a critique of the play, and the number of audition-worthy monologues and scenes it contains. If the description of this particular play piques your interest, your next step is to turn to "Part Six: Male/Female Scenes" for specifics about the selection. This is what you'll see there: The Middle of the Night by Paddy Chayefsky (Samuel French) Drama: Act II, Scene 2, pp. 40-44; The Manufacturer (53) and The (23). After an unsatisfactory attempt at lovemaking, The Manufacturer feels awful that he wasn't able to perform ually. The is very understanding. He then asks her to marry him. The actor playing The Manufacturer must have a good feel for regional New York speech patterns. This skill is less critical for the actress playing The . Start, The Manufacturer: "I'm sorry, Betty." End, The Manufacturer: "Oh, my sweet , I love you so much you don't know. If you change your mind tomorrow, I won't be angry with you. I won't lie to you, Betty. I'm afraid." This entry tells you what type of scene this is (dramatic), where you'll find the selection (act, scene, and page numbers), the length of the scene, the names and ages of the characters, the context in which the characters are speaking, and the first and last lines of the scene. If the material seems appropriate, all you have to do is get a copy of the play and get to work. BecauseThe Ultimate Scene and Monologue Sourcebookenables you to make informed decisions about the suitability of more than 1,000 monologues and scenes-which you can find easily through the book's extensive cross indexes—you'll gain a critical edge in the auditioning process.

Woza Albert! - Percy Mtwa 2018-02-22

Woza Albert! is one of the most popular and influential plays to have come out of the South African cultural struggle of the 1980s and a central work in the canon of South African theatre. Working with the idea of the Second Coming of Jesus Christ taking place in apartheid South Africa, the playwrights improvised a brilliant two-man show consisting of 26 vignettes, commenting on and satirising life under the apartheid regime. The play has become one of the most anthologized and produced South African plays both in South Africa, and internationally and is studied widely in schools as well as universities. This Student Edition contains a commentary and notes by Temple Hauptfleisch, Emeritus Professor at Stellenbosch University, South Africa. METHUEN DRAMA STUDENT EDITIONS are expertly annotated texts of a wide range of plays from the modern and classic repertoires. As well as the complete text of the play itself, this volume contains:

- A contextualised chronology of the play and the playwrights' lives and works
- an introductory discussion of the social, political, cultural and economic context in which the play was originally conceived and created
- a succinct overview of the creation processes followed and subsequent performance history of the piece
- an analysis of, and commentary on, some of the major themes and specific issues addressed by the text
- a bibliography of suggested primary and secondary materials.

Littératures d'Afrique du sud - Jean Sévry 2007

Quand on parle de littératures d'Afrique du Sud, on pense immédiatement à quelques romanciers bien connus, tels André Brink, J.M. Coetzee ou Alan Paton. Or cette liste est très incomplète, et elle ne comporte aucun patronyme africain. En effet, en dépit de nombreuses traductions, les productions d'une grande majorité d'écrivains sud-africains restent mal connues. Dans ce volume, l'auteur, qui est l'un des meilleurs spécialistes de la question, étudie plus de 180 écrivains. Il expose d'abord la genèse de leurs œuvres, qu'elles proviennent d'auteurs blancs, noirs ou métisses. Les thèmes que ces littératures abordent dans une multiplicité de genres - nouvelle, poésie, roman, théâtre, oralité - reflètent certes le fardeau de l'histoire et de ses violences, mais ils parviennent pourtant à dégager un espace de liberté où la politique s'associe au rêve. Dans un deuxième temps, on verra comment ces écrivains, en dépit de collaborations épisodiques, ont eu tendance, du fait de l'apartheid, à se séparer en deux camps, celui des victimes, et celui des privilégiés. Pour finir, des rapprochements de plus en plus forts se sont opérés, autour d'une culture de protestation. Les nouvelles tendances, apparues après l'élection de Nelson Mandela, confirment cette dynamique et donnent lieu à une floraison des imaginaires. Pourtant, chacune des communautés de la " nation de l'Arc-en-ciel " représentées parvient à garder sa voix, sa spécificité identitaire, sa diversité linguistique (anglais, afrikaans, langues africaines). Tout au long d'une lente évolution, ces œuvres, nées au départ d'une colonie de peuplement qui remonte au XVIIe siècle, témoignent d'une grande qualité esthétique. Les femmes y jouent un rôle de plus en plus important. De nombreuses citations traduites en français permettent au lecteur de se faire une idée de la variété des textes et une abondante bibliographie indique des pistes supplémentaires pour naviguer dans ce dédale interculturel.
